PG shortlisted for Niche Lawyer of the Year Award

In May we were informed that we have been shortlisted for Niche Firm of the Year by The Lawyer Awards 2007. This is a fantastic achievement in itself and the second time in our short life that we have been nominated.

The Lawyer Awards are about the celebration of excellence in the profession - in private practice, the public sector, commerce and industry, and the Bar. It is unquestionably the biggest night of the year for the legal profession.

2006 was a very important year for us. It was a culmination of six years ambition following the formation of Pemberton Greenish to become the lead practice advising the London landed estates.

As Damian Greenish, our senior partner commented, "None of us are interested in being big; we are all far more motivated by working with a few hand-picked clients and putting together a team of people who would be committed to delivering the quality of service that these clients require."

The Awards ceremony will be held at the end of June, and we hope for a good result!
